

RESPOND-HER

Common presentation at the ECER 2012 in Cádiz

Following the goal of holding common presentations within the RESPOND-HER project, Yirgashewa and Margarita prepared and presented a paper together as part of a symposium on intermediate findings from the CLASDISA project.

Next to an introduction by Mikael and the final statement by discussant Lani Florian, the Symposium, titled Access to Education for Students with Disabilities in Cross-Cultural Perspective, included the following presentations:

1. Margarita Schiemer and Yirgashewa Bekele Abdi

Mind the Gap...: Accessibility of Schools for Children with Disabilities in Addis Ababa

2. Michelle Proyer

'I wish she could visit our local school...'

Relevant Factors Influencing School Attendance of Children with Disabilities in Bangkok

3. Michaela Kramann

Parents' Capabilities and Societal Attitudes - Influencing Variables Regarding Equal Access to Education of Children with Disabilities in Vienna

The audience consisted of around 25 persons. A number of interesting questions and remarks were brought up during the discussion following the presentations which seems to mirror the high relevance of the topics raised.
